George Ward of Babcock was in the city of Waukesha, Wisconsin, on business. Mr. Ward stated that the town of Remington is going to have an honor flag with about three stars on it when the Third Liberty Loan drive is over. Their allotment down there was $1,000, and when he was here they had already secured $380, so their chances are good for gaining the goal they are after.

TOWN OF REMINGTON IS NOW IN THE HONOR LIST

The Scouts will make sure that no one is overlooked and will also give subscribers an opportunity to take just a little bit more. The Boy Scouts of America, as a distinctive service to their country, will work as "Gleaners After the Reapers". The primary motive of this Boy Scout campaign is to serve our country and help win the war.

The price of having the Boy Scouts co-operate in the end of the campaign in a house-to-house canvass is the particular service that has been assigned to the Boy Scouts of America by the United States Treasury Department.

President Wilson Call the Scouts President Wilson's letter is as follows:

THE WHITE HOUSE

Washington, 14 March, 1918.

My dear Mr. Livingston:

Will you again muster the full strength of the Boy Scouts of America for co-operation with the Treasury Department in securing subscriptions for the Third Liberty Loan? As in the two previous campaigns it is desired to have the Boy Scouts of America serve as "gleaners" in the "honor flag" campaign.

"Gleaners After the Reapers" gleaming during the days set aside for your special campaign.

The patriotic and effective service of the Boy Scouts in your definite, planned program and war-work activities is a splendid testimonial to the value of organized boyhood in helping our country win the war.

It is my earnest wish that every group of Boy Scouts and every Scout and Scout Official take part in your war service activities and especially those connected with the Red Cross.

The individuals engaged in these activities will have a great effect upon their future character as citizens.

Steadily and cordially yours,

WOODROW WILSON.

The Boy Scouts should be given every encouragement in this community. They are tremendously useful in their effort and the work they do. The boys are giving to the Government and the Red Cross, and the girls are giving to the Government and the Red Cross.

Parents and friends should be warned of the game and the similar one where the telegraphic request is to mail money to the soldier, care general delivery.

WANT FOOD CARDS

Patriotic women of Wisconsin are urging Mr. Hoover to issue a wheat card similar to the food cards that have been found necessary in other warring countries. At mass meetings of women held in Racine and in Madison recently resolutions pledging wheat were adopted and the women of the Dane County Council of Defense sent Mr. Hoover the following telegram:

"Wo., the women of Dane Co., Wis., ask you to issue a wheat card to all that those of us who use no wheat may be sure that what we save goes to France."

It would certainly be a great satisfaction to all the patriotic people of the state to know that wheat cards were going to be issued. There are people who have done everything possible to conserve on wheat, but while they are doing this, by denying themselves along this line, they are also doing in that there others who are doing nothing whatever to help in the nutrition. And generally these doctors are rated among the good citizens of the town and do a heap of talking to the other fellow. While they are generally known, for such things are bound to get out, there is no way of getting at them. The food card will hold the hog to the cross along with the cow, making it that is what every patriotic citizen wants to see.

TOWN OF REMINGTON IS NOW IN THE HONOR LIST

George Ward of Babcock was in the city on Wednesday for a short time on business. Mr. Ward states that the town of Remington is going to have an honor flag with about three stars on it when the Third Liberty Loan drive is over. Their allocation down there was $1,000, and when he went there they had already secured $3,800, so their chances are good for gaining the goal they are after.

A DELAYED SNOW STORM.

A regular snow storm visited this section on Sunday, snow and sleet falling most of the day. However, the weather was rather mild all day and when night came there was not much snow on the ground. It did not much snow on the ground, and the grass a world of good, and the moisture was badly needed in this part of the country.

However, this little flurry of snow is nothing unusual in this part of the country, local prognosticators have been predicting it would come ever since the first part of March. It is evident that some of them thought they were going to lose out on the proposition as they were saying less about it all the time. Almost anybody of ordinary intelligence can predict a snowstorm in March and make good on the proposition, but it takes a good deal of time to get away with it in April, and only the most seasoned forecasters dare to say anything serious about a snowstorm in May. In regard to these May snow storms, it might be stated that we had quite a heavy snowfall here in 1909 on the 2d of May, there being plenty of snow on the ground so that one could get around with a horse and buggy. Then in 1886 there was a heavy snow on the tenth of May, there being about eight inches on the ground. Those who had been delayed with their hauling were able to finish it up that morning, as the snow fell during the night. However, a warm sun came out in the morning and by noon there was but little snow on the ground.

ALIEN ENEMY ARRESTED FOR FAILING TO REGISTER

A DELAYED SNOW STORM.

A regular snow storm visited this section on Sunday, snow on the streets falling most of the day. However, the weather was rather mild all day and when night came there was not much snow on the ground. It did the grass a world of good, and the moisture was badly needed in this part of the country.

However, this little flurry of snow is nothing unusual in this part of the country, local prognosticators have been predicting it would come ever since the fore part of March. It was desired that of them thought they were going to lose out on the proposition, as they were saying less about it all the time. Almost any body of ordinary intelligence can predict a snowstorm in March and make good on the proposition, but it takes an older resident to get away with it in April, and only the most hardened forecasters can do anything as serious about a snowstorm in May.

In regard to these May snow storms, it is said he stated that we had quite a heavy snowfall here in 1909 on the 2d day of May, there being plenty of snow on the ground so that one could get around with a horse and cutter. Then in 1886 there was a heavy snowfall on the tenth of May, which fell about eight or ten inches on the ground, and the people who had been delayed with their hauling were able to finish it up that morning, as the snow fell during the night. However, a warm sun came out in the morning, and by noon there was but little snow on the ground.

It is my earnest wish that every troop of Boy Scouts and every Scout and Scout Official take part in your war service activities and especially in these Liberty Loan campaigns. Not only is this of practical service to our country in these critical times, but it is of great educational value to the boys participating for the responsibility of citizenship.

Sincerely and cordially yours,

WOODROW WILSON.

The Boy Scouts should be given every encouragement in this community. They are tremendously enthusiastic, tireless in their effort and giving to the Government and to all war activities will have a great effect upon their future character as citizens. The boys of today are the men of tomorrow.

Don't discourage them.—Holland Press.

Senate Accepts Report Eliminating Provisions to Punish Strikers.

30 YEARS FOR DISLOYALISTS

Sherman Attacks Labor and Hollis Speaks in Defense of Workers—New Bill Provides Court-Martial for Spies.

Amsterdam, April 17.—Count Czernin, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, according to a dispatch from Vienna, has resigned. Emperor Charles accepted the resignation and instructed to Count Czernin the conduct of foreign affairs until his successor is appointed.

Count Czernin did not know of Emperor Charles' letter to Prince Sixtus when he made the statement that France had initiated the conversations with Austria, according to a Vienna dispatch to the Lokal Anzeiger of Berlin. On learning of the letter, he resigned, but yielded to a request that he remain in office until the conclusion of the peace agreement with Roumania.

Emperor Charles, according to a Vienna dispatch dated Saturday to the Berliner Tageblatt, has canceled a visit he intended to make to Budapest. Important conferences on Austro-Hungarian foreign and internal policies were to have been held. Count Czernin, Doctor von Steyler, Austrian premier; General Arz von Strausberg, chief of the general staff, and other officials were to have been present.

An official statement received here on Monday from Vienna asserts that the latest statements of the French premier, M. Clemenceau, concerning the conversations between Austria and France regarding the possibility of opening peace negotiations do not alter the situation as regards the majority of Count Czernin's declarations.

The Austrian foreign ministry, the statement says, is unable to ascertain who was responsible for delivering to the French what is said to have been a forged letter, submitted for the letter which was to have been delivered.

Neither Prince Sixtus, whose character is beyond suspicion, nor anyone else is accused of falsification, continues the statement, which concludes:

"The affair is herewith declared to be an end."

Washington, April 17.—No official word of the reported resignation of Count Czernin had been received on Monday by the government, but all officials were deeply interested in the report, and it was recognized that the development undoubtedly was the outcome of Czernin's declaration that France had ready to talk peace.

Amsterdam, April 17.—Thousands of people gathered in the streets of Prague, capital of Bohemia, on Saturday, denouncing the Germans and cheering President Wilson, says a dispatch from that city to the Lokal Anzeiger to Berlin.

Washington, April 10.—The big American naval collier Cyclops, carrying 57 passengers, 15 officers and 221 men in her crew, has been overdue at the Atlantic port since March 18.

The navy department announced on Sunday that she was last reported at a West Indian Island March 4.

The vessel was bringing a cargo of manganese from Brazil.

A. L. Moreau Gottschalk, United States consul general at Rio de Janeiro, was the only civilian among the passengers, the others being two naval lieutenants and 54 naval enlisted men returning to the United States.

The Cyclops was commanded by Lieutenant Commander G. W. Worley, United States naval reserve force.

A thorough search of the course which she would have followed in coming to port has been made and continues, it was announced.

The official announcement by the navy does not give the ship up for lost, but merely says "the navy department feels extremely anxious as to her safety."

French Forces Are Now Re-Enforcing the English—Germans Claim Capture of Poelcapelle and Langemarck.

(By ROLAND G. USHER of the Vigilante)

London, April 18.—The British official report says French troops are now re-enforcing the British on the Wytschaete-Meteren front.

British Win, Then Lose, Towns.

Out of the chaos of the tremendous battle along the Lys river, south and southwest of Ypres, the thunder of which may be heard forty or fifty miles away, there have come during the past day reports which are more encouraging to the allied powers.

The British not only have held all the ground which they were defending on Tuesday but have struck back so powerfully that Meteren and part of Wytschaete were retaken and held for a time. Only after heavy attacks did the British retire again from the village.

Huns Claim Two Towns.

The most disturbing news has been a report from Berlin that Poelcapelle and Langemarck, both of Ypres, have been taken by the Germans and the admission from London that the British have retired from certain of their lines in the Ypres salient.

Extent of Withdrawal.

Just how far the British lines have been withdrawn is not known. It may be, however, that the German claim of taking Poelcapelle and Langemarck was the result of the British retreat.

There have been reports that the Germans have occupied the village of St. Eloi, which lies less than three miles south of Ypres, but these have not been confirmed. It also was said that they have taken positions on the south slope of Mt. Kemmel, which is about two and a half miles north of Wytschaete.

British Defense Solid.

On all the rest of the front from Messines ridge southwestward the Germans have flung themselves against the granite wall of the British defense. Official and semi-official dispatches have told of the frightful losses inflicted on the attacking masses of troops by the British rifle and machine gun fire.

The line in front of Arras has again been the scene of fighting, but here the British took the offensive and drove the Germans out of British trenches which had been carried by the enemy.

Hun Losses Enormous.

"In the morning intense bombardment was opened by the enemy on practically the whole of the Lys battle front, and from the forest of Nieppe to Wytschaete were followed by infantry attacks. All these attacks have been repulsed and considerable losses inflicted on the enemy."

"In counter-attacks, reported in the morning communiqué, our troops succeeded in entering the villages of Meenteen and Wytschaete, but, in the face of continued hostile attacks, were unable to maintain their positions there. French troops are co-operating with the British on this front."

The statement follows:

"Yesterday evening we delivered a successful counter-attack in the neighborhood of Wytschaete. At Meteren also our counter-attack restored the situation and the village remains in our hands. Throughout the afternoon and evening yesterday repeated hostile attacks north of Buileuil were repulsed with loss to the enemy. Bodies of German infantry advancing in close formation were caught under the fire of our troops at short range and suffered heavy casualties. We secured a few prisoners."

Shatter Hun Advance.

"The enemy also endeavored to develop an attack yesterday afternoon east of Robecq, following the bombardment already reported, but his assault was broken up by our artillery."

"In consequence of the progress made by the enemy on the Lys front our troops holding our forward positions east of Ypres have been withdrawn to a new line. The withdrawal was carried out deliberately, without interference by the enemy. Yesterday afternoon parties of its troops advancing over our old positions were caught by the fire of our outposts and destroyed."

Win South of Arras.

"On the battle front south of Arras parties of German infantry who had entered our trenches opposite Bois du Bois were driven out yesterday afternoon with the loss of several prisoners. Our line in this locality has been completely restored."

PATRIOTISM BEFORE PLEASURE

U. S. MEN REGAIN HILL YANKS KILL GERMANS

AMERICANS IN COUNTER-ATTACK WIN OBSERVATION POST: ENEMY'S CASUALTIES ESTIMATED AT BETWEEN 300 AND 400.

Yankees Repulse Two Attacks and Battle Is On—Fighting Lasts All Day.

With the American Armies in France, April 15.—After repulsing two German attacks on the American positions northwest of Toul, American troops on Friday counter-attacked and captured an observation hill.

The American troops battled with the Germans all day, infantry and artillery participating. At a late hour the fighting was continuing.

In the odd hours of the tremendous battle along the Lys river, south and southwest of Ypres, the thunder of which may be heard forty or fifty miles away, there have come during the past day reports which are more encouraging to the allied powers.

The British not only have held all the ground which they were defending on Tuesday but have struck hard so powerfully that Menen and part of Wytschaete were retaken and held for a time. Only after heavy attacks did the British retire again from the villages.

Huns Claim Two Towns.

The most disturbing news has been a report from Berlin that Poedewe and Langemarck, north of Ypres, have been taken by the Germans and the admission from London that the British have retired from certain of their lines in the Ypres salient.

Extent of Withdrawal.

Just how far the British lines have been withdrawn is not known. It may be, however, that the German claim of taking Poedewe and Langemarck was the result of the British retirement.

There have been reports that the Germans have occupied the villages of St. Eloi, which lies less than three miles south of Ypres, but these have not been confirmed. It also was said that they have taken positions on the south slope of Mt. Kemmel, which is about two and a half miles north of Wytschaete.

British Defense Solid.

On all the rest of the front from Messines ridge southwestward the Germans have hung themselves against the granite wall of the British defense. Official and semi-official dispatches have told of the frightful losses inflicted on the attacking masses of troops by the British rifle and machine gun fire.

The line in front of Arras has again been the scene of fighting, but only two succeeded in reaching the front line. Both of these were taken prisoner, one of them dying a short time afterward from wounds.

SENATOR W. J. STONE IS DEAD

Chairman of Foreign Relations Committee Succumbs at Washington Following Stroke of Paralysis.

Washington, April 16.—Senator William J. Stone of Missouri, chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee and for many years prominent Democratic leader, died here on Sunday. He had suffered a stroke of paralysis last Wednesday.

Stone was in public life 45 years. It was in connection with the bill proposing the arming of American merchant ships that he took sharp control and direction of the construction of the government's shipbuilding program. At the suggestion of General Munroe, Charles P. Taz, the office of general manager of the corporation was abolished to give Mr. Stone full charge of his work. Mr. Taz will remain vice president of the shipbuilding board. Announcement of Mr. Stone's acceptance of the position followed a conference at the White House.

He took his place with the supporters of his measures and consistently maintained that attitude. He held it incumbent upon him to stand with his country regardless of his own views. He was born in Kentucky May 7, 1848.

HUN SHIPS SUNK BY BRITISH

Noted Scoundrel Shown to Have Had Denials With Bernstorff and to Have Received Vast Sum.

Paris, April 18.—Paul Bolo Pasha has been executed at Vincennes. Reports of the supplementary investigation of the revolutions made by Bolo will be attached to the Dardanelles and Cithaeron cases. Bolo, a Levantine, was found guilty by court-martial of treason. He was charged with participating in the German propaganda undertaken to undermine the morale of the French army and people. His trial attracted much attention, owing to the fact that the principal evidence was furnished by the United States government, contending of which the French prosecutor, Captain Monet, refused to consider. This showed that Bolo had been in communication with Count von Bernstorff and had been given $1,000,000 by the then German ambassador to Washington. This sum Bolo used to buy into the French fleet.

Liberty Loans to Uncle Sam Is Best Guarantee of Our Fighters Safe Return Home—Do Not Hesitate.

(By ROLAND G. USHER of the Vigilantes)

Put it to yourself straight now. You know perfectly well that you would feel ashamed to keep your boy out of the ranks if he wanted to go. You know perfectly well that you would probably feel ashamed before your neighbors if they knew that the boy was sticking at home. But have you ever asked yourself whether you tell them that you were keeping your dollars tight in your jeans instead of lending your dollars to the war as well as your boy? If you have not got a boy you probably would feel that he ought to go if you had one. You have got some dollars, why don't you send them?

"Think again! If you have sent a boy over there, don't you know for certain whether that boy will come back, God grant that he may. He went, just the same, knowing full just as you did that he might not come back. You gave the dearest thing you had in the world to the government freely, for the cause of democracy. You were glad to do it; you felt fine about it. You still feel that if you had it to do over again you would not do anything else. But I'll wager anything you like that you have a lot of money that you can lend to the government without hurting yourself at all, and which you are hanging on to until it sermons. Think of it. Those dollars will be perfectly sure to come back if you lend them to the government. The government guarantees that. Why should you therefore be so afraid to leave your church on them. The great risk you have already taken and did it because it is a worthy and a noble thing to do. The thing which is not risk at all and yet which is just as necessary to the war as the other, you hesitate about.

In the morning intense bombardments were opened by the enemy on practically the whole of the Lys battle front, and from the forest of Neope in Wytschaete were followed by infantry attacks. All these attacks have been repulsed and considerable losses inflicted on the enemy.

GREGORY ADVISED TO CRUSH SPYING

Marvelous Story of Woman's Change from Weakness to Strength by Taking Druggist's Advice.

Peru, Ind.—"I suffered from a displacement with backache and dragging down pains at night, and nothing would not be on my feet and it did not seem as though I could stand it. I tried different medicines without any benefit and several doctors told me nothing but an operation would do any good. My druggist told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took with the result that I am now well and strong. I got up in the morning at four o'clock, do my housework, then go to factory and work all day, come home and get supper and feel good. I don't know how many of my friends I have told what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Mrs. ANNA METERIANO, 36 West 10th St., Peru, Ind.

This is a story told by a man home on furlough from Camp Custer:

"Why have you such a beard?" asked the sergeant.

"I couldn't find any barber shop any place," said the man.

Glory is of little consequence to the man with a large family of starving children.

Red-blooded men of courage are on the firing line—and there are many anemic, weak, discouraged men and women left at home.

At this time of the year most people suffer from a condition often called Spring Fever. They feel tired, worn out, before the day is half thru. They may have frequent headaches and sometimes "plumb" or pale skin.

Bloodless people, thin, anemic people, those with pale cheeks and lips, who have a poor appetite and feel that tired, worn or feverish condition in the springtime of the year, should try the retinol tonic powder. Such a one is extracted from Blood root, Golden Seal and Stone root, Queen's root and Oregon Grape root, made up with chemically pure glycerine and without the use of alcohol. This can be obtained in ready-to-use tablet form in sixty-five vials, as druggists have sold it for fifty years as Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a standard remedy that can be obtained in tablet or liquid form.

A good purge should be taken once a week even by persons who have a movement daily, in order to eliminate matter which may remain and cause a condition of auto-intoxication, poisoning the whole system. To clean the system at least once a week is to practice health measures. There is nothing so good for this purpose as tiny pills made up of the following: two parts of aloë and gelap, and sold by almost all druggists in this country as Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, sugar-coated easy to take.

ATTORNEY GENERAL INFORMED
PEOPLE ARE READY TO RE-
VIVE LYNCH LAW.

ARE TIRED OF DISLOYALTY

"Explosions" in Senate Probably Are Due to Nervous Condition of Senators, to Politics, and More May Be Expected.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington.—Attorney General Gregory has been advised by his federal cabinet officers to enforce the espionage law with a great deal of vigor and to leave nothing undone to stop German propaganda, to secure German spies, and to squelch disloyalty wherever found. He has been told that unless the government takes vigorous action to prosecute its enemies within its borders, there will be a reign of lynch law, and that German sympathizers will be found adoring German posts or suspended from the clubs of trees.

Men who circulate among the people, and particularly a large number of officials who come in contact with people from all over the country and have sources of information from all sections, say that the people of this country are very much disturbed on account of the signs of disloyalty which are constantly cropping out in different places. More particularly was this brought out on account of the success which the Germans achieved in the great offensive on the western front. True Americans were sincerely depressed at that time, and it made them boil with anger to see or hear expressions of exultation on the part of people who have been sheltered under the Stars and Stripes for many years, whether they be American citizens or aliens.

It is believed that the department of justice has instructed its agents in all parts of the country to use the utmost vigilance in suppressing disloyalty to this country.

In times such as these there are bound to be explosions. Several weeks ago everything was running along smoothly, and then there was the Chamberlain explosion, which resulted in several days of ardent debate of a more or less partisan nature. Then the country settled down and Washington seemed to be very quiet, when all at once the senate blew up with a bang. Senator Lodge lifted the lid and other senators followed in severe criticism of the failure to properly put the army to fighting trim and furnish it with all the implements that is required to make a success of the greatest undertaking of all time.

The United States senate has a way of its own and no other legislative body or business organization proceeds in a like manner or under similar rules. The senate will start in earnest on one subject and debate it for a little while in the morning. Then it will shift to another and there will be talk on that. Perhaps very important bill will be brought up. Dozens of senators will descend upon its importance, and after that bill has been under vigorous discussion, oftentimes with important amendments suggested, it will be laid aside and another measure taken up.

Sometimes senators complain of this method of doing business and the incongruity of such methods of legislation are pointed out. "Why not take up a measure and finish it and then go on to something else?" they often ask. Probably from the time the senate has been in existence, certainly for at least 50 years according to men who have been around the body that long, the senate has been proceeding very much along the lines that are now in vogue and the answer to all the "why" questions has been the same as it is now; that is, such questions are never answered.

"Ah!" interjected Senator Gallagher, "That is one of the most remarkable things that has ever been brought to my attention—that an appropriation disappeared from the bill the succeeding year."

"I mention it," replied Gore, "as a novelty without precedent and probably without parallel in the future."

Every person and every organization, in fact, the whole people, judging from what has been said and written on the subject, are in favor of having congress make provision for utilizing the immense water power in this country which is now going to waste. By petitions, memorials, votes of organizations and other actions, congress is besieged to "make provision for harnessing the millions in water power that now run wild."

For many years propositions have been pending in congress to carry out this very idea, the utilization of the water power of the country for manufacturing, making electric light, and using it for whatever is necessary. Sometimes the senate passes a bill and sometimes the house passes a bill for utilizing water power. The two bills are never alike; in fact, the differences between the senate and house on this subject have been so pronounced that it has been impossible to enact legislation of any kind.

Recently the administration has taken hold of the subject and a bill has been prepared by three different departments interested, the war department, the interior department, and the agricultural department. The house has gone to the extent of creating a water power committee, made up of men from three different committees of the house, who are supposed to be in control of various phases of water power.

30 YEARS FOR DISLOYALISTS

Sherman Attacks Labor and Hollis Speaks in Defense of Workers—New Bill Provides Court-Martial for Spies.

Amsterdam, April 17.—Count Czernin, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, according to a dispatch from Vienna, has resigned. Emperor Charles accepted the resignation and instructed Count Czernin the conduct of foreign affairs until his successor is appointed.

Count Czernin did not know of Emperor Charles' letter to Prince Stixus when he made the statement that France had initiated the conversations with Austria, according to a Vienna dispatch to the Lokal Anzeiger of Berlin. On learning of the letter, he resigned, but pledged to a request that he remain in office until the conclusion of the peace agreement with Roumania.

Emperor Charles, according to a Vienna dispatch dated Saturday to the Berliner Tageblatt, has canceled a visit he intended to make to Budapest. Important conferences on Austro-Hungarian foreign and internal policies were to have been held. Count Czernin, Doctor von Seydlitz, Austrian prime minister; General Arx von Strausseisenberg, chief of the general staff, and other officials were to have been present.

An official statement received here on Monday from Vienna asserts that the latest statements of the French premier, M. Clemenceau, concerning the conversations between Austria and France, regarding the possibility of opening peace negotiations do not alter the situation as regards the majority of Count Czernin's declarations.

The Austrian foreign ministry, the statement says, is unable to ascertain who was responsible for delivering to the French what is said to have been a forged letter, substituted for the letter which was to have been delivered.

Neither Prince Stixus, whose character is beyond suspicion, nor anyone else is accused of falsehood, continues the statement, which concludes: "The author is herewith declared to be at end."

Washington, April 17.—No official word of the reported resignation of Count Czernin had been received on Monday by the government, but all officials were deeply interested in the report, and it was recognized that the development undoubtedly was the outcome of Czernin's decision that France had been ready to talk peace.

Amsterdam, April 17.—Thousands of people gathered in the streets of Prague, capital of Bohemia, on Saturday, denouncing the Germans and cheering President Wilson, says a dispatch from that city to the Lokal Anzeiger of Berlin.

BAKER BACK AT WASHINGTON

Secretary Will Report European Situation and Disposition of U. S. Forces to the President.

Washington, April 17.—Secretary of War Baker arrived in Washington on Tuesday, being warmly greeted by friends and his family. President Wilson telephoned Secretary Baker and warmly welcomed him back. Secretary Baker will report on the European situation and disposition of the American forces to President Wilson.

"I return with a sense of pride and confidence at the achievements of the United States and allied troops abroad that would justify many trips across the water," Secretary Baker said.

The secretary returned to America on one of the large steamships which flew the German flag before the United States entered the war.

Mr. Baker said he would be prepared to discuss later the historic voyage which took him to England and France, where he conferred with the entente war leaders, military and political, and General Pershing, commanding America's forces in France, and assembled military facts that he will present to President Wilson.

FRANCE SHOOTS BOLO PASHA

Noted Scoundrel Shown to Have Had Dealings With Bernstorff and to Have Received Vast Sums.

Paris, April 18.—Paul Bolo Pasha has been executed at Vincennes. Reports of the supplementary investigation of the revolution made by Bolo will be attached to the Humbert and Calliau cases. Bolo, a Levantine, was found guilty by court-martial of treason. He was charged with participating in the German propaganda undertaken to undermine the morale of the French army and people. His trial attracted much attention, owing to the fact that the principal evidence was furnished by the United States government, contradiction of which the French prosecutor, Captain Monet, refused to consider. This showed that Bolo had been in communication with Count von Bernstorff and had been given $1,000,000 by the then German ambassador to Washington. This sum Bolo used to buy into Le Journal.

PATRIOTISM BEFORE PLEASURE

U. S. MEN REGAIN HILL YANKS KILL GERMANS

AMERICANS IN COUNTER-ATTACK WIN OBSERVATION POST:

Yankees Repulse Two Attacks and Battle Is On—Fighting Lasts All Day.

With the American Army in France, April 16.—Preceded by an intense bombardment of high explosives and poison gas shells, piceted troops from four German companies hurled themselves against the American positions on the right bank of the Meuse north of St. Mihiel, but were completely repulsed after terrific hand-to-hand fighting. The Americans captured some prisoners. The German losses already counted are thirty-four dead and ten wounded, who were in the American trenches, and thirty dead in No Man's Land.

With the American Army in France, April 16.—After repelling two German attacks on the American positions northwest of Toul, Americans repulsed two attacks and recaptured an observation hill.

In the raid carried out by the Germans on Wednesday against the Americans northwest of Toul the enemy intended to penetrate to the third line positions, according to information obtained from a prisoner.

This is corroborated by material found on dead Germans. The enemy carried wire, dynamite, trenching tools and other implements for organizing the positions.

The Americans knew in advance of the proposed attack through information obtained a day or two previously from prisoners captured by the French on an adjacent sector.

The attack was made by a special battalion of 800 shock troops, who had reassembled the operation for two or three weeks behind the lines.

As soon as the German barrage began the American batteries, without waiting for the rocket signal, laid down a counter-barrage, with the result that less than 200 of the enemy succeeded in climbing out of their trenches and advancing toward the American line.

The German officers sent the men right through the barrage, but only two succeeded in reaching the front line. Both of these were taken prisoner, one of them dying a short time afterward from wounds.

SENATOR W. J. STONE IS DEAD

Chairman of Foreign Relations Committee Succumbs at Washington Following Stroke of Paralysis.

Washington, April 16.—Senator William J. Stone of Missouri, chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee and for many years prominent among Democratic leaders, died here on Sunday. He had suffered a stroke of paralysis last Wednesday.

Stone was in public life 45 years. It was in connection with the bill proposing the arming of American merchant ships that he took up opposition to the declaration of war on Germany was also pronounced, and he declined to take charge of the war resolution. He believed that American participation should be avoided if possible, but when the die was cast for war he changed over night. He took his place with the supporters of war measures and consistently maintained that attitude. He held it incumbent upon him to stand with his country regardless of his own views. He was born in Kentucky May 7, 1848.

"Our country! In her intercourse with foreign nations, may she always be in the right; but our country right or wrong."—Stephen Decatur.

THE AMERICAN CREED

The city of Baltimore recently offered a prize of $1,000 for the best expression of "The American Creed," setting forth the basic principles of this nation and giving emphasis to the duties and obligations resting on loyal American citizens. Out of several hundred entries submitted, in this contest there has been chosen one which is a remarkably clear interpretation of true Americanism, and the prize-winning creed deserves widespread circulation at the present time. It is short—only about one fourth of a page—but it tells the whole story of what a true American should stand for, if his patriotism is pure and unflinching. It runs as follows:

"I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democratic in a republic; a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; a perfect union, one and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice, and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes."

I, therefore, believe it is my duty to my country to love it; to support its constitution; to obey its laws; to respect its flag and to defend it against all enemies."

Every good American citizen should be willing to live up to this creed, and unless it does actually express his sentiments there is something the matter with his loyalty. It is indeed a remarkably comprehensive statement of the very best in American history, ideas and tradition, and to memorize this brief creed will help every American to better understand and appreciate his obligations and duties as an citizen of this nation. It also would be a good thing to have this creed taught to the children in the public schools of this land, for thus there would be instilled in the minds of these future citizens a clear comprehension of the meaning of true loyalty.

Study the American creed, each word and sentence, and see how it compares with your idea of true American patriotism. You doubtless have heard the same ideas expressed in different form, but this creed puts the whole story of true Americanism in a nutshell.—Oshkosh Northwestern.

MAY MELT UP SILVER DOLLARS.

WASHINGTON.—The Senate passed last Thursday the Pittman bill authorizing the secretary of the treasury to melt 350,000,000 silver dollars and use the bullion to meet adverse trade balances against the United States in foreign exchanges and to recoup as much of it as may be wanted for strategic use.

The measure was urged by Secretary McAdoo as necessary in maintaining trade balances abroad and relieving the strain upon gold reserves.

Every silver dollar up to the limit of 350,000,000 in the treasury or in circulation may be taken up and either "melted or broken up," as the bill puts it. The measure provides a new rate of not less than $1 an ounce for silver that may be in future purchased by the government.

In creating these silver dollars the treasury is directed by the bill to call in at the same time every silver certificate with the dollar as a basis. For all silver that is to be melted up the bill authorizes the issuance by federal reserve banks of federal reserve notes in various denominations, including $1 and $2, which are to be backed by certificates of indebtedness or one year gold notes. This would release the silver for shipment abroad for recoupling, while assuring it with ample security.

WOMAN WORKS 15 HOURS A DAY

Marvelous Story of Woman's Change from Weakness to Strength by Taking Druggist's Advice.

Perry, Ind.—I suffered from a dislocation with backache and dragging down pain so badly that I could not stand on my feet and it did not seem as though I could stand. I tried different medicines without any benefit and several doctors told me nothing but an operation would do me any good. My druggist, who had told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, took with the result that I am now all strong. I get up in the morning at four o'clock, do my housework, then go to a factory and work all day, come home and get supper and feel good. I don't know how many of my friends I have told what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Mrs. ANNA METERIANO, 36 West 10th St., Perry, Ind.

Women who suffer from such ailments should not fail to try this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

RELIABLE PRESCRIPTION FOR THE KIDNEYS

For many years druggists have watched with much interest the remarkable record maintained by Dr. Kidney's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine.

It is a physician's prescription. Swamp-Root is a strengthening medicine. It helps the kidneys, liver and bladder do their work.

Swamp-Root has stood the test of years. It is sold by all druggists on its merit and it should help you. No other kidney medicine has so many friends.

Be sure to get Swamp-Root and start treatment at once.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper—Adv.

FRECKLES

Now Is the Time to Get Rid of Those Ugly Spots

There no longer the albatross around your neck, as the present fashion—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these horrid spots.

Some persons complain of double strength—from your breakfast, and apply a little of night and morning, and you should see the difference. The lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than one course is needed to completely clear the skin again of beautiful clear complexion.

But you get for the double strength either the same as solid cream, or a liquid.

Up for inspection.

This is a story told by a man home on furlough from Camp Custer:

The soldiers were lined up for inspection and every man was clean shaved but one.

"Why have you such a beard?" asked the sergeant.

"I couldn't find any barber shop any place," said the man.

Glory is of little consequence to the man with a large family of starving children.

Red-blooded men of courage are on the firing line—and there are many, anemic, weak, discouraged men and women left at home.

At this time of the year most people suffer from a condition often called Spring Fever. They feel tired, worn out, before the day is half thru. They may have frequent headaches and sometimes "plumy" or pale skin.

Bloodless people, thin, anemic people, those with pale cheeks and lips, who have a poor appetite and feel that tired, worn or feverish condition in the springtime of the year, should try the refreshing tonic powers of a good all-time blood purifier. Such a one is extracted from Blood Root, Golden Seal and St. John's Wort. Queen's Root and Oregon Grape root, etc., etc., up which chemically pure glycerine and without the use of alcohol. This can be obtained in ready-to-use tablet form in sixteen-cent vials, as druggists have sold it for fifty years as Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a standard remedy that can be obtained in tablet or liquid form.

A good purge should be taken once a week even by persons who have a movement daily, in order to eliminate matter which may remain and cause a condition of auto-intoxication, poisoning the whole system. To clean the system at least once a week is to practice health measures. There is nothing so good for this purpose as clay pills made up of the May-apple, leaves of aloe and jalap, and by almost all druggists in this country as Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, sugar-coated, easy to take.

Eliminating Poison Ivy.

The cheapest and most effective method of eliminating poison ivy, according to experts of the United States department of agriculture, is the simple one of ridding up the plants and destroying them. If the poison ivy is in large fields it may be necessary to plow and cultivate the land. Try on large trees, stone walls and buildings can be killed by arsenite of soda, at the rate of two pounds to ten gallons of water. Two or three applications are sufficient.

Composition of Sea Water.

It may interest to know of what old ocean is composed. Sea water, in addition to chloride of sodium, or common salt, contains sulphate of potassium, sulphate of magnesium, traces of bromine, iodine and various other salts. These minerals have an appreciable influence on the temperature of sea water, which is usually higher than that of fresh. For the heat of the solar rays is felt not merely on the surface but, because of the admixture of salts, penetrates the mass of water to a greater depth.

GREGORY ADVISED TO CRUSH SPYING

ATTORNEY GENERAL INFORMED PEOPLE ARE READY TO RE-VIVE LYNCH LAW.

ARE TIRED OF DISLOYALTY

"Explosions" in Senate Probably Are Due to Nervous Condition of Senators, as Well as to Politics, and More May Be Expected.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington.—Attorney General Gregory has been advised by his fellow cabinet officers to enforce the espionage law with a great deal of vigor, and to leave nothing undone to stop German propaganda, to secure German spies, and to squelch disloyalty wherever found. He has been told that unless the government takes vigorous action to prosecute its enemies within its borders, there will be a reign of lynch law, and that German sympathizers will be found adoring gavel posts or suspended from the limbs of trees.

Men who fluctuate among the people, and particularly a large number of officials who come in contact with people from all over the country and have sources of information from all sections, say that the people of this country are very much disturbed about the signs of disloyalty which are constantly cropping out in different places. More particularly was this brought out on account of the success which the Germans achieved in the great offensive on the western front. True Americans were sincerely depressed at that time, and it made them bold with anger to see or hear expressions of realization on the part of people who have been sheltered under the Stars and Stripes for many years, whether they be American citizens or aliens.

It is believed that the department of justice has invited its agents in all parts of the country to use the utmost vigilance in suppressing disloyalty to this country.

In times such as these there are bound to be explosions. Several weeks ago, everything was running along smoothly, and then there was the Chamberlain explosion, which resulted in several days of ardent debate in a more or less partisan nature. Then the country settled down and Washington seemed to be very quiet, when all at once the senate blew up with bang. Senator Lodge lifted the lid and other senators followed in several criticism of the failure to properly arm the army to fight and furnish it with all the implements that it needed.

No doubt the last explosion was due to the nervous condition of senators who were just then feeling very apprehensive on account of the great German drive. Probably there will be similar explosions as the war progresses, for it is not in the order of things for everybody to be satisfied with the conduct of the war.

There are a great many things which the war may do before it is ended, and this much may be set down as certain: Whatever is necessary to win the war will be done, whether it is fixing prices of commodities, fixing wages of labor, or doing anything else that is required to make a success of the greatest undertaking of all time.

WISCONSIN HAPPENINGS

News of the Badger State Arranged in Condensed Form.

Madison—Plans have been completed for the 1918 Wisconsin State Fair and Exposition, to be held at Milwaukee Sept. 9 to 14, inclusive, and 20,000 premium books have been sent to prospective exhibitors—breeders, agriculturists, horticulturists, farm women, dieticians, poulterers, boys and girls' clubs and others. Again, this great exposition will be a war aid to the federal government, which will be represented by an immense exhibit prepared by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and another prepared under direction of Robert Hoover, Food Administrator. Secretary Oliver E. French announces that the premiums offered total $77,358.00, of which $22,252 is offered for agricultural and allied activities. Last year set an attendance record of 188,889 for the Wisconsin fair. The attendance this year is $50,000.

Appleton—Joseph W. Le Fevre, of Kaukauna has offered the United States war department as a present his famous carrier pigeons. The offer was refused as the government rules prohibit the acceptance of even such valuable and needed birds as carrier pigeons. The government has offered $1 a pair for "squakers" as the very young pigeons are called.

Madison—Mrs. Nella Kedzie Jones of Auburndale, will be chairman of the Women's Land Army of Wisconsin, and will serve on the advisory council of the woman's committee, State Council of Defense. Sheboygan—The Campfire Girls of Owatonna camp, have tendered their services to the public to run errands, care for children, serve at dinners and do dishwashing and mending. They charge 15 cents per hour and give all the money thus earned to the Red Cross, Y. M. C. A. or any other patriotic cause for which the girls are working.

Madison—There will be no special election in the Eleventh congressional district to name a successor to Irving L. Lombard unless the voters of the district demand it. Gov. Philipp has announced. The general election is only a few months away. Gov. Philipp holds, and it would be useless expense to order an election now.

Sheboygan—The old familiar rural mail carrier's horse drawn vehicle has passed out of existence here. Herman Schmidt, letter carrier on rural route No. 4, has sold his horse and buggy, with which he has for many years delivered mail to the farmers, and has bought a motor truck.

Madison—Because of the demand for sugar, the State Council of Defense and the federal food administration are appealing to the farmers of Wisconsin to increase the acreage of sugar beets this year. Responses already received show that the sugar crop in Wisconsin may be doubled.

Madison—The advertiser, not the newspaper, must pay the penalty for violation of the statute covering advertisement for labor in plants where a strike is in progress. This is the opinion of Atty.-Gen. Spencer Haven handed down upon the request of Dist. Atty. Allen of Winnebago county.

Beloit—Lieut.-Col. Thomas J. Rogers, former Heilman and captain of Co. E, First Wisconsin Infantry in the war with Spain, has been wounded in France. Col. Rogers entered the regular army as a lieutenant and served in the Philippines. His son, Capt. Fred Rogers of Beloit, is also in France.

GREGORY ADVISED TO CRUSH SPYING

Marvelous Story of Woman's Change from Weakness to Strength by Taking Druggist's Advice.

Peru, Ind.—"I suffered from a displacement with backache and dragging down of the body so badly that at times I could not be on my feet and it did not seem as though I could stand it. I tried different medicines without any benefit. My doctors told me nothing but an operation would do me any good. My druggist told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It was the result that I am now well and strong. I get up in the morning at four o'clock, do my housework, then go to a factory and work all day, come home and get supper and feel good. I don't know how many of my friends I have told what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me." ANNA METERANO, 36 West 10th St., Peru, Ind.

Women who suffer from any such ailments should not fail to try this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Bleeding men of courage are on the firing line and there are many anemic, weak, discouraged men and women left at home.

At present the year most people suffer from a condition often called Spring Fever. They feel tired, worn out, before the day is half thru. They may have frequent headaches and sometimes "plump" or pale skin.

Bleeding people, thin, anemic people, those with pale cheeks and lips, who have a poor appetite and feel that tired, worn or feverish condition in the springtime of the year, should try the simple and safe cures of the good alternative and blood purifier. Such a one is extracted from Blood root, Golden Seal and Sars root, Queen's root and Oregon Grape root, made up with chemically pure glycerine and without the use of alcohol. This can be obtained in ready-to-use tablet form in sixty-cent vials, as druggists have sold it for years as Doctor Pierce's Golden Aleo. D. Dr. Recovery. It is a standard remedy that can be obtained in a quiet or liquid form.

ATTORNEY GENERAL INFORMED
PEOPLE ARE READY TO RE-
VIVE LYNCH LAW.

ARE TIRED OF DISLOYALTY

"Explosions" in Senate Probably Are Due to Nervous Condition of Senators, as Well as to Politics, and More May Be Expected.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington.—Attorney General Gregory has been advised by his fellow cabinet officers to enforce the espionage law with a great deal of vigor, and to leave nothing undone to save German propaganda, to secure German spies, and to squelch disloyalty wherever found. He has been told that unless the government takes vigorous action to prosecute its enemies within its borders, there will be a reign of lynch law, and that German sympathizers will be found advocating lynch posts or suspended from the limbs of trees.

Men who circulate among the people, and particularly a large number of officials who come in contact with people from all over the country and have sources of information from all sections, say that the people of this country are very much disturbed on account of the signs of disloyalty which are constantly cropping out in different places. More particularly was this brought out on account of the success which the Germans achieved in the great offensive on the western front. True Americans were sincerely depressed at that time, and it made them boil with anger to see another expression of exultation on the part of people who have been sheltered under the Stars and Stripes for many years, whether they be American citizens or aliens.

It is believed that the department of justice has instructed its agents in all parts of the country to use the utmost vigilance in suppressing disloyalty to this country.

In times such as these there are bound to be explosions. Several weeks ago everything was running along smoothly, and then there was the Chamberlain explosion, which resulted in several days of ardent debate of a more or less partisan nature. The country settled down and Washington seemed to be very quiet, when all at once the senate blew up with a bang. Senator Lodge lifted the tie and other senators followed in severe criticism of the failure to properly furnish the army fighting trim and furnish it with all the implements that is required to make a success of the greatest undertaking of all time.

The United States senate has a way all its own and no other legislative body or business organization proceeds in like manner or under similar rules. The senate will start in earnestly on one subject and debate it for a little while in the morning. Then it will shift to another and there will be talk on that. Perhaps a very important bill will be brought up. Dozens of senators will descend upon its importance, and after that bill has been under vigorous discussion, oftentimes with important amendments, suggested, it will be laid aside and another measure taken up.

Sheboygan.—The Headquarters' company, One hundred and Twentieth Field artillery, formerly Troop M, First Wisconsin cavalry, organized in Sheboygan, has arrived safe in France, according to telegrams received by relatives of the men.

Sheboygan.—The Headquarters' company, One hundred and Twentieth Field artillery, formerly Troop M, First Wisconsin cavalry, organized in Sheboygan, has arrived safe in France, according to telegrams received by relatives of the men.

Fond du Lac.—Special prayers for the recovery of the wounded members of Company B, One Hundred Fifteenth Machine Gun Battalion in France were offered in practically all of the local churches on Sunday.

Madison.—Fred F. Finn, formerly an officer in Company G was leading a Fond du Lac company in the recent battle in which thirty-six Wisconsin soldiers were injured, according to reports received here.

Madison.—"Ah!" interjected Senator Gore. "That is one of the most remarkable things that has ever been brought to my attention—that no appropriation disappeared from the bill the succeeding year."

"I mention it," replied Gore, "as a warning without precedent and probably without parallel in the future."

Every person and every organization in fact, the whole people, judging from what has been said and written on the subject, are in favor of having congress make provision for utilizing the immense water power in this country which is now going to waste. By petitions, memorials, votes of organizations and other activities, congress is besieged to "make provision for harnessing the millions in water power that now run wild."

For many years propositions have been pending in congress to carry out this very idea, the utilization of the water power of the country for manufacturing, making electric light, and using it for whatever is necessary. Sometimes the senate passes a bill and sometimes the house passes a bill for utilizing water power. The two bills are never alike; in fact, the differences between the senate and house on this subject have been so pronounced that it has been impossible to enact legislation of any kind.

Recently the administration has taken hold of the subject and a bill has been prepared by three different departments interested, the war department, the interior department, and the agricultural department. The house has gone to the extent of creating a water power committee, made up of men from three different committees of the house, who are supposed to be in control of various phases of waterpower legislation. This committee for several months has had an opportunity to consider the administration bill, but so far has not been able to report measure.

The same old question of differences still exists. The senate, and particularly the men from the Western states, have their own ideas as to water-power legislation, and they are very loath to consent to measures which are supported by the house which have generally had the backing of national administrations. That is the reason why there is no water-power legislation enacted.

True to its policy, the house considered the subject of postal salaries more important than the big measures of finance, war and commerce, and in fact any other subject that has come up during the session. The interest manifested in one bill alone, that increases the salaries of post office employees outside of the city of Washington, aroused more intense interest than almost any other single bill that has been before congress. It certainly resulted in more lively debates—"scraps" they might be called, as they often developed into wordy contests between members on the floor whereby each tried to hound the other out and the man with the loudest voice had the advantage. At such times the presiding officer would nearly split his gavel trying to maintain order, but without success.

Perhaps the interest of all the members of the house in the salary question can be explained by the fact that they know about salaries and wages, while they are not so very well informed about high finance and similar subjects. The real explanation, however, is that nearly every member has a constituent who is more or less interested in the question of salaries of government employees.

It is quite likely that many things will be done on account of the war, and among them we may finally reach a point where price fixing will be adopted. Notwithstanding the declamations against it that have been heard in both houses of congress, and the assertion that we have passed no law authorizing anybody to fix prices of commodities, it is a fact that there has been a great deal of price fixing on many of the important articles of commerce in this country. And what is more, there will be a general price fixing if the so-called "producers" continue to abuse the patience of the government by charging exorbitant prices for the necessities of life.

There are a great many things which the war may do before it is ended, and this much may be set down as certain: Whatever is necessary to win the war, that will be done, whether it is fighting out of doors or in hospitals. Land army. However, more and more fugitives are being made by women regarding out-door work.

THE AMERICAN CREDIT

The city of Baltimore recently offered a prize of $1,000 for the best expression of "The American Credit," setting forth the basic principles of this nation and giving emphasis to the duties and obligations resting on loyal American citizens. Out of several thousand credits submitted in this contest there has been chosen one which is a remarkably clear interpretation of true Americanism, and the prize-winning credit deserved widespread circulation at the present time. It is short—only about one hundred words—but it tells the whole story of what a true American should stand for. If his patriotism is pure and undiluted, it runs as follows:

"I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democratic republic, a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; a powerful, unimperial, and insatiable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice, and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes."

I therefore, believe it my duty to my country to love it; to support its constitution; to obey its laws; to respect its flag and to defend it against all enemies."

Every American citizen should be willing to live up to this creed, and unless he does actually express his sentiments there is something the traitor with his loyalty. It is indeed a remarkably comprehensive statement of the very best in American history, ideals and tradition, and to memorize this brief credit will help every American to better understand and appreciate his obligations and duties as a citizen of this nation. It also would be a good thing to have this credit taught to the children in the public schools of this land, for thus there would be instilled in the minds of these future citizens a clear comprehension of the meaning of true loyalty.

MAY MEET UP SILVER DOLLARS

WASHINGTON—The senate passed last Thursday the Pittman bill authorizing the secretary of the treasury to melt $30,000,000 silver dollars and use the bullion to meet adverse trade balances against the United States in foreign countries and to recoup as much of it as may be wanted for domestic use.

The measure was urged by Secretary McAdoo as necessary in maintaining trade balances abroad and releasing the strain upon gold reserves.

Every silver dollar up to the limit of $30,000,000 in the treasury or in circulation may be taken up and either "melted or broken up," as the bill puts it. The measure provides a new rate of not less than $1 an ounce for silver that may be in future purchased by the government.

In recalling the silver dollars the treasury is directed by the bill to call in at the same time every silver certificate with the dollar as a basis. For all silver that is to be melted into the bill authorizes the issuance by federal reserve banks of federal reserve notes in various denominations, including $1 and $2, which are to be backed by certificates of indebtedness or one year gold notes. This would release the silver for shipment abroad for recycling, while insuring it with ample security.

Mr. Lounsberry's run for this spring is finished and an unusually fine amount of syrup was the result. It was all engorged by a firm in Stevens Point and was delivered on Friday.

Hugh Williams returned on Saturday from Randolph where he was called by the serious illness of his father at that place.

Most people were of the impression that the fire in the third ward, but the members of the guard understood it all right and responded in short order.

It was only a practice call, however, as there was no riot in the city with the exception of the one the boys caused in their effort to get to the armory without delay.

There is no law by which a man can be compelled to work unless he has been convicted of an offense, according to an opinion of the attorney general given recently to A. H. Melville, of the state council of defense. Mr. Melville had complained of young men, who own cottages along the rivers and lakes of Wisconsin, and who spent the summer months at these places. He wanted to know if they could not be forced to go to work. The attorney general said that enforced service is against the constitution.

Work at the Red Cross headquarters took a boom on Monday evening when the members of the Royal Neighbor Lodge attended in a body, there being 46 workers in attendance. The work could be helped along quite a bit if all members turned out. The work is not so very arduous and can be learned in short time, so there is no reason why every woman in town should not put in a part of her time there. A new rotary cutter has recently been installed by the local chapter, which greatly facilitates this part of the work.

THE AMERICAN CREED

The city of Baltimore recently offered a prize of $1,000 for the best expression of "The American Creed," setting forth the basic principles of this nation and giving emphasis to the duties and obligations resting on loyal American citizens. Out of several thousand creeds submitted in this contest there had been chosen one which is remarkably clear in interpretation of true Americanism, and this prize-winning creed deserves widespread circulation at the present time. It is short—only about one hundred words—but it tells the whole story of what a true American should stand for, if his patriotism is pure and undiluted. It runs as follows:

"I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democratic republic, of many sovereign states; a perfect union, one and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes."

Every good American citizen should be willing to live up to this creed, and he does actually express his sentiments there in something the matter with his loyalty. It is indeed a remarkably comprehensive statement of the very best in American history, ideals and tradition, and to memorize this brief creed will help every American to better understand and appreciate the high ideals and duties of a citizen of this nation. It would be a good thing to have this creed taught to the children in the public schools of this land, for thus there would be instilled in the minds of these future citizens a clear comprehension of the meaning of true loyalty.

Study the American creed, each word and sentence, and see how it compares with your idea of American patriotism. You doubtless have heard the same ideas expressed in different form, but this creed puts the whole story of true Americanism in a nutshell.—Oshkosh Northwestern.

MAY MELT UP SILVER DOLLARS.

WASHINGTON.—The senate passed last Thursday the Pittman bill authorizing the secretary of the treasury to melt 350,000,000 silver dollars and use the bullion to meet adverse trade balances against the United States in foreign countries and to reduce the cost of it as may be wanted for domestic use.

The measure was urged by Secretary McAdoo as necessary in maintaining trade balances abroad and relieving the strain upon gold reserves.

Every silver dollar up to the limit of 350,000,000 in the treasury of circulation may be melted up with the bill, unless it is to be used as the bill puts it. The measure provides a new rate of not less than $1 an ounce for silver that may be in future purchased by the government.

In recalling the silver dollars the treasury is directed by the bill to call in at the same time every silver certificate with the date of issue before the silver coin is to be melted up. The bill authorizes the issuance by federal reserve banks of federal reserve notes in various denominations, including $1 and $2, which are to be backed by certificates of indebtedness or one year gold notes. This would release the silver for shipment abroad for recycling, while assuring it with ample security.

WHILE EGGS ARE PLENTIFUL SAVE FOR SCARCITY

For About Two Cents a Dozen Eggs Can Be Preserved in Water Glass Eight to Twelve Months.

EGGS PRESERVED FOR WINTER USE

Either Water-Glass or Lime-water May Be Used by Any Housewife.

TWO PLANS ARE DESCRIBED

Use Only Firm-Shelled, Fresh, Clean, and If Possible, Infertile Eggs—Cost Is Estimated at Two Cents Per Dozen.

White high prices for eggs last winter are still fresh in your mind. It is well to make a resolve to preserve eggs this spring when they are plentiful for the season of scarcity which comes in the fall and winter. Putting up eggs in a water-glass solution or lime-water is not an experimental enterprise. Thousands of women preserve eggs by these methods in the spring and early summer and keep them for winter use. Fresh eggs properly preserved will keep for eight to twelve months in excellent condition and may be used with good results.

If satisfactory results are to be obtained the eggs should be fresh and clean, firmly-shelled and, if possible, infertile. Eggs laid during April, May and June have been found to keep better than those laid later in the season. Eggs that are not fresh and therefore cannot be preserved. When an egg is only slightly soiled a cloth daubed with vinegar can be used to remove such stains. Under no circumstances should baily soiled eggs be used for preserving. If put into the jar white they will spoil, and washing removes a protective coating which prevents spoiling.

Cost of Preserving.
By the water-glass or sodium silicate method eggs may be preserved at a cost of about two cents a dozen if the price of sodium silicate is 30 cents a quart. It is not desirable to use the water-glass solution a second time. Here is the water-glass method as described by specialists of the United States department of agriculture:

Use 1 quart of sodium silicate to 9 quarts of water that has been boiled and cooled. Place the mixture in a five-gallon crock or jar. This will be sufficient to preserve 15 dozen eggs and will serve as a guide for the quantity needed to preserve larger numbers of eggs.

Select a five-gallon crock and clean it thoroughly, after which it should be scalded and allowed to dry. Heat a point of water to the boiling point and allow it to cool. When cool, measure out 9 quarts of water, place it in the crock and add 1 quart of sodium silicate, stirring the mixture thoroughly. The eggs should be placed in the solution. If sufficient eggs are not obtainable when the solution is first made, additional eggs may be added from time to time. Be very careful to allow at least two inches of the solution to cover the eggs at all times. Place the crock containing the preserved eggs in a cool, dry place, well covered to prevent evaporation. Waxed paper covered over and tied around the top of the crock will answer this purpose.

Lime-water May Be Used.

When water-glass cannot be obtained, lime-water may be used in its stead. Dissolve 2 or 3 pounds of unslaked lime in 5 gallons of water that has previously been boiled and allowed to cool, and allow the mixture to stand until the lime settles and the liquid is clear. Place clean, fresh eggs in a clean earthenware jug or keg, and pour the clear lime-water into the vessel until the eggs are covered. At least 2 inches of the solution should cover the top layer of eggs. Sometimes a pound of salt is used with the lime, but experience has shown that in general the lime without the salt is more satisfactory.

Fresh, clean eggs, properly preserved, can be used satisfactorily for all purposes in cooking and for the table. When eggs are preserved in water-glass are to be boiled, a small hole should be made in the shell with a pin at the large end before placing them in the water.

John R. Burke, a sailor on the U.S. S. Seattle, read of the youngster's arrest and told his mother, Mrs. Josephine Reiter of Brooklyn, the name was the same as that of the seven-month-old child that was kidnapped from her, and so she sent the sailor boy post haste over to the Tombs.

"I think I'm talking to my brother," he said to the youthful prisoner, who came toward him from the barred gate.

"Is that so? I ain't got no brother. I ain't got anybody I know of," was the reply of George. But the sailor asked him if he had a scar on his side, and, brushing back his tousled black hair, another scar was revealed, and then there was no question about the identity of the prisoner.

"Say, have I got a mother?" was the first question the lad popped at him. And when told that not only had he a mother, but a good one, who had been waiting 10 long years to see him, the kid nearly wept for joy. He has a sister, too.

"Now I'm happy," he said.

LOVED WISELY, BUT TOO MANY

Seventeen-Year-Old Girl Marries Three Men, but Finds Third Is Real Thing.

Oakland, Cal.—Edna Metcalf, a seventeen-year-old girl, who loved wisely, but too many, is under the wing of her mother here, while attorneys are debating as to how she shall be disengaged from three marital complications.

Edna's love-making was entirely confined to the navy. Last August she wedded Ensign Edward Reese, Duty called him from her side, and there she met and promptly married Jack Overstreet, a Mare Island marine, finally, a naval radio operator, Lewis Linwsky, wood and won her.

Although desperately fond of each of her naval husbands at the time of the marriage, she now declares that it took the third application for the love virus to take.

FIND NEW 'BOOZE TRANSPORT'

Woman Arrested in Kentucky Wears Peculiarly Contrived "Under-alls" With Many Pockets.

Newport, Ky.—Officers here discovered a new "booze transport" when they arrested a woman who had several aliases as she stepped off a train from Poplar Bluff, Mo. She wore a peculiarly contrived pair of "under-alls" which contained many pockets, and in each pocket was a pint of Missouri whisky. Lacking money to pay the imposed fine of $300, the woman is now in jail.

PLAYFUL KITTENS COST DEATH OF AGED WOMAN

Eau Claire, Wis.—Five playful kittens of which Mrs. Carrie Hagen, sixty-seven, widow, was intensely fond, cost her life. The kittens, while playing on the floor, ignited a box of matches, setting fire to Mrs. Hagen's dress.

Pueblo, Col.—William M. Bilstein, a railroad employee of this city, underwent an operation to replace a piece of jawbone that had to be removed following an accident. A piece of rib was substituted and Bilstein's jaw again is perfect.

BOY IN JAIL FINDS HE HAS A MOTHER

Carried Away While a Baby, He Is Identified by His Brother.

Now York.—The prospect of doing a bit in a penitentiary for carrying a gun isn't a particularly happy one, especially when a fellow has pleaded guilty, but sixteen-year-old George J. Burke was smiling all day in the Tombs, and he doesn't give a whoop if the court of special sessions sends him to jail for life, because he now knows he has a real honest to goodness mother, and what's more, he's going to see her at once.

"That's the big idea," he told Wardian Hanley in the Tombs. "I didn't know if I came to this earth in a flour sack."

He was born in the Tombs.

Clean up your town

Declare war on filth, dirt and rubbish.

People are often judged by the clothes they wear, until known for their true worth or unworthiness.

A stranger will always judge a town by its looks.

Dirty streets, alleys and yards full of rubbish, and fence and building corners full of weeds indicate lax, slovenly citizenship and great lack of home pride.

Now is the time to put on the municipal spring dress, then the time to clean up the winter's accumulation of fire and disease-gern breeding rubbish and debris, wherever found in basements, attics, close-set yards, areas-ways, sheds and barns.

Acting under authority of Section 827, some city councils have already decided on a spring clean-up, and to remove ashes and rubbish, placed on the side streets, at public expense.

What have your city fathers done in this matter?

A clean town means health, it means saving of property from fire, it means saving of lives from the ravages of disease and fire, it means home and community satisfaction with your surroundings.

Let mothers, fathers, wives and husbands designate and proclaim the first week of May as Clean-Up-Week. Let the house and shop keepers thoroughly clean up rubbish in and on their respective premises.

Let health officers, fire chiefs, women's clubs and other civic bodies aid in planning and carrying out this clean-up work.

Let the school children be organized into clean-up squads.

Let everybody work and boast for a clean town.

Use caution in burning leaves and rubbish. Too many careless children are burned at such fires, and often such fires, left unattended, spread to buildings and destroy them.

There is no time for needless sacrifice of life or property than preventing fires or diseases. Such sacrifices must be made across the seas, combatting liquid fire, poisonous gases and disease germs of rampant autocracy.

When your back yard is cleaned up, make it up to its every corner, and raise much needed food instead of unsightly weeds.

Replacing dry, moss-covered shingle roofs and defective chimney tops, closing up needless wall openings, using paint liberally, and painting and beautifying your home grounds and buildings, will help to make a city beautiful and safe.

Let there be no civic slackers.

This is your home town, so work and boost for it and help to make it the best and cleanest town in the state.

Clean-up, Paint-up, Spade-up, an plant food, paint food, plant civic pride, secure safety.

You try it, it is catching.

INTERESTING NEWS FROM BABCOCK BOY

Lawrence Brost, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brost of Babcock, writes his people a very interesting letter from England, from which the following extracts are made:

Dear Mother and All;

March 16, 1918.

Somewhere in England

I suppose you received my last saying I arrived safely overseas which was left for mailing at Port of embarkation. I enjoyed my ocean trip immensely, altho we were crowded terribly. We were allowed on deck most of the time and all we had to do was watch the rolling sea and bursting white caps. I thought it was very novel and exhilarating but by the looks on some of the other passengers faces, as they bent over the railings and disposed of an exceedingly good breakfast, proved that all were not sharing my enjoyment. I was sick in the head and still believe that the disease is little more than lung-chadron. However, I won't consider myself a competent judge as I possess an extra strong stomach. We were married out in North Dakota, April 23.—Ella Zuege to a young Dakota man.

There is no law by which a man can be compelled to work unless he has been convicted of an offense, according to an opinion of the attorney general given recently to A. H. Melville, of the state council of defense. Mr. Melville had complained of young men, who own cottages along the rivers and lakes of Wisconsin, and who spend the summer months at these places. Work at the Red Cross headquarters took place on Monday evening when the members of the Royal Neighbors League attended in a body, there being 160 persons in attendance. The work could not be handled quite a bit if all members turned out, so the work is not so very arduous and can be learned in a short time, so there is no reason why every woman in town should not put in a part of her time there. A new rotary cutter has recently been installed by the local chapter, which greatly facilitates this part of the work.

the wall itself, is all that is necessary to support the floor plan when the footings are 30 inches below the ground. You can easily make the proper depth, and the wall really starts at this point.

It has been demonstrated that in building the foundation in this way to the floor line, fully 50 per cent is saved when a solid concrete foundation is taken into consideration. This is partly on account of no forms required and partly because of the saving of wall above the footing. In laying the hollow tile below the ground level, it has been found that nothing in the way of strength or ability to serve its purpose is sacrificed by breaking out the joints between the ends of the tile and a great deal of time of course, is saved in laying.

By WILLIAM A. RADFORD.

Too much importance cannot be placed on the construction of your greenhouse, and observation has no doubt convinced you that "precaution pays" in this type of building, perhaps more than in any other.

A greenhouse built like a day-light furnace is as important to your bank as count as to the ultimate consumer of your farm and herd.

By far the most effective means of protecting a greenhouse is shown in the accompanying illustration. It is through the roof and by using the greenhouse type of sash laid flush with the roof. In this way the sun shines down more directly upon the glass and less of the germ-killing rays are reflected.

It is a well-known fact that practically no germs can exist in direct sunlight, and therefore you should make use of this cheapest and best disinfectant on the market to dry your share in reducing the enormous loss of disease in western hoggs.

The 6 by 8 or 6 by 12 foot-pen with the 6 foot way along the passageway has proven to be the most convenient size in the straight side greenhouse and an equivalent number of square feet floor space should be provided for each pen in the round greenhouse.

Experience and observation have convinced the writer that the partitions between the pens should be on longer, so as to swing up. Thus all pens may be turned together. The partitions along the passageway should slide up and be so made that they can be fastened about one inches above the floor. By having the partitions along the passageway so that they may be raised partly up in this way they should be provided with small doors or other means for shutting off part of the air to extremely cold weather. Sliding doors all connected together by a light rod may be easily made so that the whole side of the building may be regulated at one time.

How Man Fights Nature's Forces.
It is a fight. Man's efforts to grapple with nature is engaged in a struggle against nature's forces. With our first breath we begin to counter these forces, and continue from our first breath to our last, says Charles M. Horton, in Industrial Management. Individually we are compelled gradually to give way to these forces - to decay. It is the law. Nature abhors. And all life recognizes it. From earliest dawn of history man has instinctively resisted this law, nobly and passively. Humanity's first thought - self-preservation is the one big active intent, and as an agent it comes to mankind as an outgrowth of primitive man's own endless fight against decay.

Code of Preserving.

By the water-glass or sodium silicate method eggs may be preserved at a cost of about two cents a dozen if the price of sodium silicate is 30 cents a quart. It is not desirable to use the water-glass solution a second time.

Here is the water-glass method, as described by specialists of the United States department of agriculture:

One Quart of Sodium Silicate to 9 Quarts of Water.

Two young girls watched the "natty young 'Cuthbert' pass along the street.

"Did he appear for exemption?" said May.

"Yes," said Ray. "You might have known he would."

"On what grounds?"

"I don't know," replied Ray. "Unless it was upon the grounds that if he went to war his wife's father would have no son to help to support."

The Universal Poet.

It is said that a poet has died young in the breast of the most stolid. If it may be contended rather that a (somewhat minor) hand in almost every case survives and is the spirit of life to his possessor. Justice is not done to the versatility and the unquenched childlike ness of man's imagination. His life from without may seem but a rude mound of mud; there will be some golden chamber at the heart of it, in which his dweller delighted; and for as dark as his pathway seems to the observer, he will have some kind of brightness at his heel! - Robert Louis Stevenson.

Taller Trees Attract Lightning.
There is a strange superstition relative to the liability of certain trees being struck by lightning. All kinds of trees have been advanced along these lines. The ancient Romans believed that the mulberry, laurel, peach, larch and box trees were lightning proof. Not a few foresters of modern times are of the opinion that certain trees are more or less liable to destruction by lightning.

Salt as Royal Tribute.

Among the many items of tribute furnished by different cities for the royal revenue, is mentioned "2,000 loaves of very white salt, refined in the shape of a mold, for the consumption of the lords of Mexico." Among some excerpts from the royal account book, of yearly expenditures, extracted by Torquemada, appear 1,800 baskets of salt.—Medicine and Surgery.

WHILE EGGS ARE PLENTIFUL SAVE FOR SCARCITY

For About Two Cents a Dozen Eggs Can Be Preserved in Water Glass Eight to Twelve Months.

EGGS PRESERVED FOR WINTER USE

Either Water-Glass or Lime-water May Be Used by Any Housewife.

TWO PLANS ARE DESCRIBED

Use Only Firm-Shelled, Fresh, Clean, and If Possible, Infertile Eggs—Cost Is Estimated at Two Cents Per Dozen.

White high prices for eggs last winter are still fresh in your mind. It is well to make a resolve to preserve eggs this spring when they are plentiful for the season of scarcity which comes in the fall and winter. Putting up eggs in a water-glass solution or lime-water is not an experimental enterprise. Thousands of women preserve eggs by these methods in the spring and early summer and keep them for winter use. Fresh eggs properly preserved will keep for eight to twelve months in excellent condition and may be used with good results.

If satisfactory results are to be obtained the eggs should be fresh and clean, firm-shelled and, if possible, infertile. Eggs laid during April, May and early June have been found to keep better than those laid later in the season. Eggs that float when placed in the solution are not fresh and therefore cannot be preserved. When an egg is only slightly soiled a cloth dampened with vinegar can be used to remove such stains. Under no circumstances should badly soiled eggs be used for preserving. If put into the jar while dirty they will spoil, and washing removes a protective coating which prevents spoiling.

Experiments and experience have proven that the only really satisfactory way of building a hoghouse floor is to use hollow tile or fake floor of boards or some other means of securing dead air spaces immediately under the hogs. This is well secured by using a second-class tile in 4 or 5-inch thickness with a 1-inch top coat of 1 to 4 cement and sand spread on top of this course of tile.

The proper chinking of the air in a hoghouse is of the greatest importance, for in order to do it properly, it is necessary to have control at all times and yet have no drafts directly on the hogs.

PUT TABLET OUT OF REACH

Fact That Information It Gave Was Untrue Did Not Disturb Australian Villagers.

"I remember some years ago," writes a correspondent, "while spending a day and a night in a small Australian village, not far westward from Vienna, located on a delta formed by the confluence of a lesser stream with the Danube, my attention was arrested while walking through the settlement by a marble tablet, set in the brick wall of a building, on one of the most important street corners. I saw that the tablet bore no inscription, but it was so high above the street that I could not distinguish it; so I asked of a man who kept a wine shop opposite what the tablet signified."

"Only Plea He Could Put Up." Two young girls watched the "nasty young curbside" pass along the street. "Did he appeal for exemption?" said May.

"Yes," said Ray. "You might have known he would."

"On what grounds?"

"I don't know," replied Ray. "Unless it was upon the grounds that if he went to war his wife's father would have no son-in-law to support."

The Food Controllers of the United States and Canada are asking for greater food production. Scarcely 100,000,000 bushels of wheat are available to be sent to the allies overseas before the crop harvest. Upon the efforts of the United States and Canada rests the burden of supply.

Every Available Tillable Acre Must Contribute; Every Available Farmer and Farm Hand Must Assist

Western Canada has an enormous acreage to be seeded, but man power is short, and an appeal to the United States allies is for more men for seeding operation.

Canada's Wheat Production Last Year was 225,000,000 Bushels; the Demand From Canada Alone for 1918 Is 400,000,000 Bushels

To secure this she must have assistance. She has the land but needs the men. The Government of the United States wants every man who can effectively help, to do farm work this year. It wants the land in the United States developed first of course; but it also wants to help Canada. Whenever we find a man we can spare to Canada's fields after ours are supplied we want to direct him there.

Apply to our Employment Service, and we will tell you where you can best serve the combined interests.

Western Canada's help will be required not later than May 5th. Wages to compete help, $50.00 a month and up, board and lodging.

Those who respond to this appeal will get a warm welcome, good wages, good board and find comfortable homes. They will get a rate of one cent a mile from Canadian boundary points to destination and return.

Glorious Story of American
Sailors May Never Be Told

Helps

ANY have told of the deeds of the destroyers, men, or the exploits of those who drive the swift war boats to their double task of staying and sinking mines, mine layers, filling to the brim of the killing of the U-boats and guardians of the convoy let it be said that a half of the splendid tale has not yet been told.

The men of the long hunter craft are the pick of the navy and their ships come close to being the best in the world. They know it, their countrymen know it, and Fritz of the submarine is learning it to his own sorrow.

Much honor is also paid to the men of the ground fleet. The gunners who are waiting at some unannounced sea rendezvous for a chance to loose the destruction of their great guns upon the ships of Wilhelm, sea lord of the Kiel emporium.

These are our brother, and our shield. They make the first line of the nation's defense. They are fighters skilled in their appointed tasks, and eager for that battle that they believe cannot be far off now.

No one tells of their brethren of the transport service. Only the brief official announcement gives their history, and this comes but rarely, occasionally the powers at Washington lift the curtains of secrecy that hangs between our coast line and the Atlantic to announce that troops have been landed to an unannounced number at an unannounced port in France. Only once so far has it named the ships that carried those troops.

To the average American mind the transports leave our shores and reach those of France, and that is all there is to it.

There is much more. Most of this probably will never be told. The endless chain of ships, most of them built in Germany, that carry men and supplies to the immediate rear of the war and then return for more, have no history.

There were windstorms when the vessel rolled in an arc of 82 degrees. There were days of ice when the spray froze whenever it struck and men came off watch, encased in mail. There were days of snow that lashed the lookouts' faces like whips. There were days of tremendous seas that rolled up 60 feet from the water line to rip lifelines from their davits.

There was little time free of hard work and no leisure for the seaman. To sleep one had to clutch the sides of his bunk, and usually when he relaxed as slumber overtook him, he fell out with a dismal crash.

Day by night, they fought the seas, making fast, repairing, defending their vessel against the unending assault of the waves.

A petty officer was going through the mess hall, progressing cautiously, never letting go of one stable object until he had grasped another, when his grip slipped. He was thrown the whole length of the hall, and was carried a limp piece of bloody wreckage to the sick bay.

They had to operate to save his life, the surgeon said. That in a storm that was making the Ramapo behave like an out-of-control horse. But the man is still alive. The wind was from the north and was making the ship roll terribly. They turned her bow into the gale and faced into it for two hours, because the motion that way was easier.

The cruiser and her convoy passed on down the horizon. The storm got worse. For two hours the Ramapo steamed slowly into its teeth, alone on the ocean. She did her thousands of men waiting, while in the operating room, the surgeon balanced himself to the more regular plumb of the vessel and saved the man's life.

That is what the men of the transport service, most of whom enlisted to fight and were chosen to run, are doing. Now they are doing it only in partly told tale, caught here and there from letters sent home from French ports by sailors; from descriptions of the trip over "Over There" recounted by soldiers, recovered from the terrible qualms of seasickness and filled with a new-found gratitude and admiration for their brothers in the navy blue who brought them safely across.

Let us call her the Ramapo, because that isn't her name. Let us say still further that she was formerly, before she hauled down the red, white and black and hoisted the Stars and Stripes, the Kaiser Adolph, which she wasn't and one of the crack liners in the German merchant marine, which she was.

In the dusk of a winter afternoon she slipped down the river and out to sea, unobtrusive in her war paint. Several thousand troops were in the "trombones" below decks.

The troops were all kept below while the transports slowly slipped down the stream and the shores grew blurred behind her. Then her engines quieted. Her bow made its first curve to the ominous Atlantic swell and she was on her way across. From now on, for day on day, a torpedo slightly placed might cause a greater loss than the attack of an army corps ashore.

Down in the troop spaces soldiers were singing to keep up their courage. In the quarters of a negro regiment at least a hundred cap canes were already in progress. Up in the crew's mess halls only a few times a day were already on the watch for submarines and seeing periscopes in every wave top.

That night, the storm hit them.

All through the night, the section on watch had no time for peaceful thought. They prodded pens-in-the-corner fashion across the heavy decks in the inky darkness, marking fast darts that were writhing free with the rolling, securing a hundred different objects that strove to burst away.

The phosphorescence of the wave tops was the only light they saw. Save for two or three exceptions, there was absolutely no illumination on the boat.

HEROES of the TRANSPORT SERVICE

Glorious Story of American
Sailors May Never Be Told

ANY have told of the deeds of the destroyer men, for the exploits of those who drive the swift war boats to their double task of slaying and saving makes fine and bountiful talk. To the credit of the killers of the U-boats and guardians of the convoy let it be said that a half of the splendid tale has not yet been told.

The men of the long-hunter craft are the pick of the navy and their ships come close to being the best in the world. They know it, their countrymen know it, and Fritz of the submarine is learning it to his own sorrow.

Much honor is also paid to the men of the grand fleet—the blue-jackets who are waiting at some unnumbered sea rendezvous for a chance to loose the destruction of their great guns upon the ships of Wilhelm, sea lord of the Kiel canal.

There is much more. Most of this probably will never be told. The endless chain of ships, most of them built in Germany that carry men and supplies to the immediate rear of the war, and then return for more, have no history.

Yet the history is there, latent and waiting for birth. The fate of America's part in the war, perhaps the fate of the war itself, rests on the blue-jumped shoulders of the transport men. Their business is not to fight, unless cornered. Their task is not to defend so much as to evade. They are responsible for the lives of thousands of temporarily helpless soldiers. They and their ship play a desperate game of tag, in which every U-boat the Kaiser owns is "it" and they and their vessel the lone and unhappy tager.

Day by day they come and day by day they go, and of their doings only the high lords of the navy know. Port of storm and torpedo are theirs. Unrelaxed vigilance and eternal weariness are their duty. And they are doing their work. They are getting the men across. Up to the time this was written, no transport flying the Stars and Stripes and carrying her precious load of men and munitions to France has lost in her deadly game of tag. The Tuscania, it should be remembered, was a British ship.

That is what the men of the transport service, most of whom enlisted to fight and were chosen to run, are doing. How they are doing it is only a partly told tale, caught here and there from letters sent home from French ports by sailors; from descriptions of the trip over "Over There" recounted by soldiers recovered from the terrible quains of seasickness and filled with a new-found gratitude and admiration for their brothers in the navy blue who brought them safely across.

Lawrence Brost, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Brost of Babcock, writes his people a very interesting letter from England, from which the following extracts are made:

Dear Mother and All:

March 16, 1918.

Somewhere in England

I suppose you received my card saying I arrived safely overseas which was left for mailing at Port of embarkation. I enjoyed my ocean trip immensely, altho we were crowded terribly. We were allowed on deck most of the time and all we had to do was watch the rolling sea and bursting white caps. I think it was very lovely and exhilarating but I fear the looks on some of the other passengers faces as they bent over the railing and digested an exceedingly good breakfast, proved that all were not sharing my enjoyment. I wasn't sick in the least and still believe that the disease is little more than imagination. However, I won't consider myself a competent judge as I possess an extra strong stomach. We had no accidents whatever and the sea was quite calm. A very fortunate trip. Have met and talked with many Americans and understood most of them.

On that boat when it was torpedoed we were not afraid and carriedness. This will probably be considered so I can't tell you everything I would like to. But after I help take the Kaiser and get back I'll just sit and talk until the cows come home.

I was certainly delighted with our trip thru England. The country is now in the full bloom of spring, a much earlier spring than at home.

Every inch of land is cultivated and the ancient trees are beautifully adorned with their blossoms. The covered walls. Many houses have the thatched roofs such as I pictures, with the stork perched on top. The railroads here are very quiet and unusual in appearance. The cars are small four-wheeled dinkies and look more like the dumplings Amherst uses in her coal mines.

It would take a whole train load to fill an ordinary box car in God's country. The passenger coaches are divided into compartments which open on the side. They are built in a very unique way, so before they can start the train the conductor has to close all the doors. Each compartment will hold about eight persons. The conductor, in order to pass thru the train on the outside along a six-inch platform on the outside of the car, always in danger of life when he opens the door of a compartment. The only four wheels of the car are as large as our ear wheels and they make the train look like a toy. When the conductor has to close all the doors, the whole world reminds me of a scene in an American carnival.

I think I'll read English poets with an after seeing their haunts. The name of the author of "Tom Brown's School Days" and "Tom Brown at Oxford" is familiar to me now.

I took a few hikes thru a few of the larger cities and had a great time with the horses. I think all of us shocked but dirty and worn out.

When we'd fall out for rest they would almost mob us, bagging for American pennies. The older ones bagging for souvenirs, even to the buttons on our coats.

We are living on English rations at present and I'm getting thinner and thinner every day. When I think of you folks at home getting all you want to eat at the table, I realize how exceedingly good God has been to you. Oh Lord for three good old squares of real white bread and butter, cream for real coffee, fried potatoes, and countless other delicacies I used to get at home. You all can thank your lucky stars. If you only knew the things I have experienced you would say with me "America is Mine." I can't get a pinch of American tobacco here and foreign stuff is an American carnival.

Why, one of our big engines could hold one of these toy engines in her fire box. The whole works reminds me of a scene in an American carnival.

I think I'll read English poets with a great deal more interest from now on after seeing their lands. Towns of the author of "Tom Brown's School Days" and "Tom Brown at Oxford" is familiar to me now.

We took a few hires thru a few of the large cities, and had a great time with the hordes of kids, all rosy cheeked but dirty and very saucy. When we'd fall out for a rest they would almost mob us, begging for American pennies. The older ones begged for souvenirs, even to the button of our coats.

We are living on English rations at present and I'm getting thinner and thinner every day. When I think of you folks at home getting all you want to eat of the best grub I realize how exceedingly good God has been to you. O Lord, for those good old squares of real white bread, biscuits, cream for coffee, fresh potatoes and countless other delicacies I used to get at home. You all can thank your lucky stars. If you only knew the things I have experienced you would say with me, "America, 'tis Mine." You are in the "Garden of Eden." I can't get a pinch of American tobacco here and foreign stuff is rotten to smoke. I haven't received any mail for over two weeks. I hope everybody is well at home. I am feeling fine. Write often.

Lots of love,

Lawrence.
